The final event of the Global Junior Challenge [1], the international competitions that rewards the innovative use of technology for 21st century education and social inclusion will be held in Rome in October 2015 with a renewed formula building on all the successful features of past GJC editions.

Project may be submitted through July 31, 2015. Rules and further information are available at the competition website: www.gjc.it [1].

Promoted by the City of Rome, the competition is organized by the Fondazione Mondo Digitale [2] under the high patronage of the President of the Italian Republic. The GJC is a unique opportunity to reflect on the challenges posed by the 21st century in terms of didactic innovation, integration, sustainable development and fighting global poverty.

Over six editions, the GJC has a databank of over 3000 projects, 500 best cases and 100 awards.
